The New-York and Louisville teams began their present series of games at the Polo Grounds yes-terday afternoon in the presence of the usual outpouring of possibly a thousand people, if a particularly liberal estimate is made. But everything ticularly liberal estimate is made. But everything about the Hariem Hollow inclosure is liberal these days, and if this spirit is not crushed before long the chances are that the management will provide a band of music and in addition give to each spectator who pays 25 cents or 50 cents admission a handsome souvenir pleture of "Johnny" Ward and "Eddy" Talcott.

The game yesterday was a close and exciting one all through, the assistant tail-enders from "Old Kaintuck" winning through superior work in the field. Doyle covered first base, Joyce going to the bench. An error by the new first baseman was particularly costly. Doyle will make blunders occasionally like all good players, but he will get balls that Joyce would not see. An error by Van Haltren also die much to give the game to the visitors. Wagner Ritchey, Warner and Davis did the best work with the bat. Score:

hat Joyce would have also did much to give the last series and Dave work with the bat. Score:

It was a day of surprises. Pittsburg went down in easy style before Brooklyn and then went to Boston and defeated the champions, shutting them out as well. The leaders feil before Philadelphia and New-York bowed to Louisville, which was re-garded as being extremely easy.

Tannehill, who shut the champions out yesterday, has won as high a percentage of the games he has pitched as any pitcher in the League. With a good batting team behind him he would probably not have lost a game.

Cincinnati again went down before its old Jonah, Philadelphia, after having an apparently easy time with Ealthmace.

M'COY AND CORBETT MATCHED AT LAST. The much discussed prizefight between Homer Selby, otherwise known as "Kid" McCoy, and James J. Corbett was arranged at a meeting held in this city yesterday. The men will fight at Buffalo for a purse of $20,000 on September 10. Mc-Coy will train near Boston, and Corbett will do his preliminary work at Asbury Park. It was announced that George Considine will manage Corbett hereafter. Nathan Sutton, a hotelkeeper of Syracuse, will, it is said, furnish the money for Corbett hereafter. Sathan of Syracuse, will, it is said, furnish the money for McCoy.

According to the articles, the men are to fight before a vitascope in a building, and if the weather is not clear the match is to be postponed from lay to day so as to get a good day for the photographing machine. The fight will not be put off, however, after September 19. The building is a new one at Cheektowaga, twelve minutes ride from Buffalo, on the line of the West Shore Rail-road.

and received a warm welcome from his friends and admirers. The handicapper-steward wore a pained expression and glared at the diminutive jockey and at portly Thomas Welch, who trains George Keene, as if they had taken a mean advantage of him. The handicapper-steward smiled complacently, how-ever, when he learned that Isidor, a sprinter, was going to start with 126 pounds on his back. Thomas Welch should not have taken such an advantage. as with Slean in the saddle George Keene should have carried 117 pounds.

Sydney Paget viewed the races from one of the He said that he knew nothing about the possible purchase of Brookdale by William C. Whit-ney. Brookdale is one of the best-equipped breeding and training establishments in this country. D.

D. Withers, the foremost turfman of his time, was the founder of Brookdale. After his death it was purchased by Colonel William P. Thompson, who made many expensive and valuable improvements on the property. Colonel Thompson was a leader in turf affairs, but death overtook him, and the property fell into the hands of his heirs. Thompson and William P. Thompson decided that racing and breeding were extremely costly pastimes, and the Brookdale stud and racing stable were dispersed at public sale. The Thompsons re-tained a few racers, among them the three-year-old colt The Huguenot. Brookdale has been on the market since last November, and it would not be at all surprising if William C. Whitney became its owner and James Rowe became the trainer of the Whitney-Paget stable. the Whitney-Paget stable.

The betting was extremely lively on every race yesterday, and well-backed horses won and were placed in all the races. Caldron pulled up lame. Isidor cannot be restrained in his races, and he stopped under a pull in his contest yesterday, and was unable to respond when called upon to make an effort in the homestretch. George Keene, in Sloan's hands, is a good racehorse, and won his Sloan's hands, is a good racehorse, and won instance cleverly.

The starier and his strange device decide more races than the judges. One or two horses get off and the rest run for McGuinness.

Frederick Gebhard's Mizoah was well backed by his friends who remain in this neighborhood, and won handily in fast time.

James R. Keene's St. Cloud II ran unplaced in the Eclipse Stakes at Sandown Park yesterday. The stakes were won by Lord Rosebery's Velasquez, and were worth $20,000. Butt was second and Goletta was third. James R. Keene will not visit England this year. That is certain. Reports that he intended to cross the Adantic have been circulated. Mr. Keene said emphatically yesterday that these reports were not true.

GOSSIP OF THE TROTTERS.

Star Pointer's mile in 2:02% at Peoria on Thursday indicates that the big Tennessee pacer is in better form than ever this year. At the corresponding period last season he had not beaten sponding period last season he had not beaten 20048, although his preparation was more hurried then than now. James A. Murphy, the Chicago turfman, who owns Star Pointer, expects to see him this year beat the two-mile pacing record, 4.134, now held by Chehails, the wagon record for pacers, 2:048, held by Joe Patchen, and his own record of 1:394 to sulky. Few horsemen doubt that he will do all this if he stays sound and starts under favorable conditions.

turfman, has bought of J. H. Leonard, Butte, Mont., the great four-year-old trotting gelding John Nolan, 2:13%, by Prodigal, 2:16, from Fan tasia, 2:17%, by Ranchero, 2:21%. This horse has beaten all of the best ones in his class on Westbegan the campaign without a record it is said that he can beat 2:10 at present. Mr. Hubinger is reported to have paid 4:600 for him. Nolan will not start in the $10,000 race at Detroit next week, his former owner having been unable to buy a subscription to the big stake race. There should be a good race to-day at the Park way track in the match between John F. Dingee's Bowman, 2:174, by Moquette, and George Innken's Crescent, 2:19%, by Stamboul. The stakes are $1,500, and the rival Brooklyn trotters seem to are $1,500, and the rival Brooklyn trotters seem to be quite evenly matched. Crescent turned the Parkway half-mile track very handly in 2:20% a few weeks ago, while Bowman was up in the bunch at Hartford last week when the miles were trotted in 2:14% and 2:12%. W. H. Snyder will drive Bowman to-day and J. P. Rogers will hold the reins over Crescent.

the last week, trotting his miles below 2:15 and showing the characteristics of a great racehorse. Some of the other Eastern starters will be Joseph E. Hubinger's gray mare Rene, by Wilkesbrino: C. J. Hamilin's bay gelding Battleton, by Rex Americus; George R. Cole's bay stallion Quarterstaff, 2:234, by Quartermaster, and Br. J. C. McCoy's bay gelding Tacomis, 2:17, by Overstreet Wilkes.

Rene and Tacomis were among the starters in the $10,000 race last year, but they finished behind the money and went through the senson's campaign without winning a heat or gaining a Rene is still in the 3:00 class, although she trotted second to the Montana horse Querist in 2:13% at Peorla this week. Tacomis broke the ice at the recent Windsor meeting, winning his first race and a record of 2:17. Quarterstaff has not won a heat this season, but he forced Directum Kelly to trot three heats in 2:14%, 2:14% and 2:15% to beat him at Hartford. Battleton is the dark horse of the Detroit race, never having started in public.

The prominent Western trotters entered in the big race are Nancy King, 2:13%, owned by Hunting-ton Brown, Mansfield, Ohlo; Lurline McGregor, 2:11% by Robert McGregor, owned and driven by George H. Ketcham, Toledo, Ohio; Russo Greek, 2:144, by Russia, owned by Congressman Greek, 2:144, by Russia, owned by Congressman W. J. White Cleveland; Major Chew, 2:144, by Orator, owned by Huston Wyeth, St. Joseph, Mo.; and Professor Wells, 2:174, by Durango, owned by A. G. Danforth, Washington, Ill. Twenty horses have been named to start next Tuesday. The field includes more high-class young trotters than ever before came together in a race and the contest for the "blue ribbon of the trotting turf" bids fair to be fast and furlous.

added to the programme for the Grand Circuit meeting at Charter Oak Park, Hartford. One of these innovations is a stake race for trotting teams, open to all, with allowances to amateur teams, open to all, with allowances to amateur drivers. The entrance fee is $200, and the club adds $200 or $500 to the stakes, according to the number of starters. There will be two handleap races on the European plan, and probably a saddle race for a purse of $5,000, provided the best horses on the trotting turf can be secured as starters. Another novelty will be a race at a mile and a half, open to trotters of the 2.12 class. The Hartford club has repudiated the new rules of the National Trotting Association, and will conduct its Grand Circuit meeting under the old turf code with slight amendments.

THE LINTON-MICHAEL PACED RACE

MUCH DEPENDS ON THE RESULT-THE CONTINU ANCE OF RACING MEETS TO BE DECIDED

BY THE PATRONAGE-BOTH MEN IN PRIME CONDITION.

Probably no race meet held in years will be watched so closely as the one to be held at the Manhattan Beach track to-day. The chief contest of the day will be a match between "Jimmy" Michael and Thomas Linton, and it is expected to furnish the best contest of the year. Promoters and clubs will watch the outcome and the number of spectators present. In case the attendance is small it is likely that few other big meets will be held in this city this season. Paced races of this sort cost a great deal of money, and the promoters are not likely to keep at it unless the gate receipts warrant the expenditure. It is thought that Linton will have the better pacemakers. Michael's friends are confident that the midget will win, and they are backing their opinions with cash.
"When 'Jimmy' faces the starter with me to morrow afternoon," said Linton yesterday, "one of the desires of my life will be accomplished. I have looked for a meeting with Michael for three years, and it was as much for this as any other reason that I came to America this year. I have trained hard for this contest, and if I did not think that I would win I would not go into it. The pacemakers who will lead me are as hardy a lot as I have ever seen. They have won ten races this year and only lost one, and each member of my crew believes that another victory will be added to the long list to-day. We are all in excellent con-to the long list to-day. We are all in excellent condition."

Physical Director Culver, of the National Track Team Association, who arrived with the party, and who will handle the pace for Linton against Dave Shafer, is particularly proud of his team. "We have the strongest team we have yet secured," he said, "and as we have a record of ten victories out of eleven races, we have no reason to fear this meeting. I believe that both Linton and McDuffee can defeat Michael behind our pacemakers, and the boys will do their share to-morrow to make this another victory for the black and pink team."

The meeting this afternoon between the erstwhile school and play mites will be the first that has taken place between them for three years. At that time Linton was anxious to meet Michael, and posted a deposit with "The London Sporting Life" to bind the match between the two men. Michael shortly after that departed for this country, and Linton came over a few months later. It was at this time that Edward Plummer, who was Linton's manager, made the boast that Linton had driven Michael from England. Linton denles ever having made such a statement. On the contrary, he declares that he criticised his manager for the remark.

When Linton arrived in America he promptly remark. When Linton arrived in America he promy challenged Michael, and a race was almost ranged for when Michael found it necessary to turn to England to attend to some legal affa This is the first time since then that Linton had an opportunity to meet the midget.

OF INTEREST TO WHEELMEN.

Many of the members of the Harlem Wheelmen have gone to the front to serve their country, and incidentally many more of them are willing to go in case their services are needed. George Reith, who was one of the fastest riders on the track last year, is second lieutenant in Company I, 8th New-York Volunteers. Other members of the club in York Volunteers. Other members of the club in the United States service are Oscar L. Foley and Charles S. Kervan, of the 8th Regiment: Theodore Schmelz, of Troop M. Rough Riders; Leelie V. Mockridge, of Company I. 71st Regiment; W. W. Peterskin, of Company C, 21st Infantry; Louis Hildebrand on the United States steamer Resolute; Cecil D. Barclay and Percy Miles, in the 22d New-York Volunteers, at Willets Point. There are also many members in the 171st, and others in the 7th Regiment. On August 1 the clubbouse will be entirely renovated from cellar to roof. When the improvements have been finished the members expect to have the finest bleycle house in the city.

The Doll case came up in Part I of the Supreme Court yesterday. On the suggestion of Assistant Corporation Counsel Ridgway, the case was post-poned until Wednesday. Several of the disappointed foreign riders who ame to this country expecting to pick up fortunes on the cycle track will sail for France to-day.

Among the number will be Paul Bourette and the Jallu brothers. Another passenger will be C. W.
Miller, the winner of the six-day race. Miller expects to arrange several matches with Cordang and Houret in long-distance contests. The fact that the New-England Passenger Assoclation has granted one fare for the round trip for the National meet is being feit throughout the New-England States, and it is believed that more wheelmen will attend the National meet next who either will attend the National meet next month from that section of the country than visited Philadelphia last August. The rate from Boston of $21 is one of the lowest ever made out of that city, and all of the wheelmen in New-England who are interested in the success of Boston in her efforts to secure the meet in '99 will take advantage of the opportunity to go to Indianapolis to assist the Boston '99 Meet Club.

The regular scheduled run of the Madison Wheel men will start from the clubhouse to-morrow and proceed via Fort Lee Ferry, Hudson County Boule-vard and Bergen Point Ferry across Staten Isl-and to Midland Beach. James Butler's great four-year-old colt Directum

Clarence Ruland, Arthur G. Terry and J. Robert Kelly, 2:14, by Direct, now looks like the best one of the Eastern trotters engaged in the $10,000 formed a triplet team, to try for records. They ride race at Detroit. He has won two races within a wheel geared to 105. The team has individual
